Creating a legacy

Conference Matrix

		Main identified actors
		Individuals and Communities		Health and Care Providers			Health and Care Policy				Innovation	Research
		Citizens, individuals, ...	Communities and local structures (e.g. neighbourhoods, cities, ...)	Informal caregivers	Health and care professionals	Health and care organisations and institutions	Local policy makers	Regional and national policy makers, gov. agencies, ... (also including insurances)	International policy, EU institutions, international organisations, ...	Other policy domains (e.g. housing, education, work, (social) economy, environment, ...)	Innovation and innovation associations, entrepreneurs, SME's, ...	Academia, universities, research centres...
The role of BCI in the uptake of innovative (digital) tools and solutions	What benefits/challenges do the different actors see in the use of BCI for the uptake and sustainable implementation of innovative (digital) tools and solutions?
	What actions can be undertaken by the actors to support the uptake and sustainable implementation of innovative (digital) tools and solutions by using BCI?
Measure what matters: Neighbourhood analysis	How can every actor contribute to the neighbourhood analysis? What are the different roles?
	What can the different actors gain from a neighbourhood analysis? What do they expect to gain?
Giving back to the people: Population Health and Wellbeing Management	What can every actor 'give back'? What do they expect to receive?
	What is needed to move beyond 'hard' and/or 'health' centred data? What actions can be undertaken by the different actors?
How to build trust and transparency with regard to citizens' health and care data	What does each actor understand with 'trust' and/or 'transparency'?
	According to the different actors, what is needed to increase trust and/or transparency in the health and care data ecosystem?

Thank you!

Coming up:

- 17:00 Reception with music by Siger

For those participating in the evening programme:

- 18:00 Guided tour through the Great Beguinage
- 19:00 Networking dinner at the Faculty Club